Lewis Apes His Betters

Dog in Manger Ruins American Industry

By C. LEON de ARYAN

LOS ANGELES,—I have just been at the Newsreel theatre on Broadway below Sixth street. They showed John L. Lewis entering the court room and a close up of his face. The figure of the man walking from his car to the court house exhibited the measure of the man, but when the close-up appeared on the screen the audience, involuntarily, erupted a gasp in surprise followed by derisive jeers. And I mean surprised, derisive jeers. I was totally surprised at the face it showed. Had I given expression to my own spontaneous re-action I, too, would have jeered, not because I dislike Lewis, for I respect courage and daring and have been inclined to give Lewis every benefit of the doubt, not in forced measure, but in generous gobs; but the picture he presented was awful, in the worst sense.

A shrivelled up monkey-hyena-rat combination; a face I had seen in some way in the old John D. Rockefeller; a face of the British miser who clutches the gold pieces and sells even his grandmother to hell for a sack of coffee. A typical "Peer" who kept Ireland ground under his heel and India, too; "a Lord" who exploits his miners.

And the audience jeered for they saw the man as he really is. An ape if there ever was one. What a difference from the well known pictures of the brushy browed Tarzan man in newspaper cuts. Shrivelled up monkey-hyena features, really rat-features.

What happened? Who is John L. Lewis?

And mind you, I hold no animosity against him whatever, as incredible as it might appear. In fact I am inclined to side with him in this action of his; for Lewis is right in the sense that the courts have no business whatever to rule us by injunctions. I am unalterably opposed to the notion that the court can do no wrong and the citizen is bound to obey instantly every fool and corrupt judge who sits on the bench and issues arbitrary orders which do irreparable havoc if obeyed. When the federal administration hides behind sanctimonious powers of the judiciary to justify its own crimes we cannot sit by and let them get away with it.

The whole labor organization picture is one of aping their betters. I was terribly disappointed when I first realized it. Originally I favored labor unions because I, too, had been working with pick, shovel and wheelborrows 12 hours a day until my hands could not open and I had to open the fist by sticking the thumb of the one into the cramped fist of the other and after straightening the fingers of one hand use them to open up the other fist. I, too, worked in mines and cave-ins, in gas and in water-soaked tunnels with the slag hitting my head. If anything, I have every inclination to side with the "workers". But what turned me against them is they never intended to remedy the evil, ALL they are working for in organized bodies is to TURN the tables on the employers. They want to exploit the employers and the general public as the landed gentry, the vested corporations exploit the immigrants and slaves. That is the difference between me and Lewis, between me and the whole labor racket.

I am interested to get at the root of the trouble. Lewis is interested to play dog in manger the way the land-barons, the corporations, as monopolists hold up all of us and thru monopoly have been grinding their employees down. Lewis has no pity for the people who freeze and starve because Lewis SAW how All of you pitilessly joined FDR into his war to "free" the world from want and all of you sent your sons to create a million times more misery to the whole world, to bolster up the racket of the SANHEDRIN.

Now Lewis gives you a dose of your own medicine. But it takes a shrivelled up soul to do such a dirty thing.

A soul who would point to the evil of landlordism, which receives partial tax-immunity on land-holding to shift taxation to workers and business, would find expression in a face of courage and generosity; but a soul who is small enough to ape the Sanhedrin and hold up the nation, increase the misery of Europe, because his notion of progress is to do as his "betters", the Lords of the Land, the Cartel of the SANHEDRIN, is doing and do it first and NOW, is a fugitive from hell, whom hell inevitably is claiming back as its own. Hence it finds expression in Lewis' walk, in his posture and his face.

The rat who plays dog in the manager.

OUR CHRISTMAS MESSAGE

Each year at this season important things happen in my life to outline the next step I have to take. Unfailingly it happened again. The influence, of course, is a combination of influences. My close associates affect me, like Fred, Gladys who speak their minds freely and readers of THE BROOM who don't say a word except send in a note "please cancel my subscription on expiration".

The real important thing is that a dentist, one of our readers, ruined my lower dental plate. It was such a master piece of fine balance, that no matter where the pressure of the bite was placed, it was distributed over the whole surface of the base and did not hurt. The hasty man in his "know-all" imagination simply ruined a piece of the surface and unbalanced the plate. Now it hurts and irritates the whole mouth. But, naturally, why did I attract this incident? Nothing happens by chance.

I was very tired last night and went to bed at 8. It is 3 AM now, Sunday, Dec. 8. I feel the loveliest of peace. The tragedy of the ruined plate, the fact that its maker died, that it takes a genius to replace it and where is that genius? there was no other refuge but to go to God. And in this thought I fell asleep; woke up in the most wonderful feeling of positive divine peace.

To acquire this was the purpose of the ruined plate. To learn not to despair in the worst extremity but surrender unconditionally and completely your being into the LOVE of God; this lesson, to establish this discipline until it becomes automatic, this and this alone eliminates WAR.

The season brought on tremendous problems to all of us: strikes, Russia, starving Europe, criminal Jew-domination of the USA, national and international lawlessness; Bilbo, the Negro question; and how to solve it all?

All sorts of organizations of veterans, "Christian" veterans who did the murdering for the anti-Christ in the war; pro and anti-Jewish organizations, Columbians and "Mobilization for Democracy"; all these crack-pots, violators of every principle of equity; they solve nothing.

This is Christmas season. The merchants sell you stuff and fancy, but nobody can buy the Christ. You have to find HIM in your heart yourself by loving HIM more than your very life, by trusting HIM completely, by fearing nobody and nothing, placing yourself and all you have at HIS disposal. This is an individual achievement. All churches, all organizations, all unions and treaties cannot do it for you. There IS NO PEACE till you made it with God in our own heart by absolute surrender.

The past year I was drawn thru my work into new circles. I became acquainted with Arthur L. Bell and his group. He had attracted the fire of the Adversary. He and his group have to learn much, but they dared and they dare and this daring binds us; daring to do the unusual to break thru the shackles of conventional living as slaves of the state and the orthodox run of churches. And so there are people who send in, as a consequence, those notes "please cancel" upon expiration and others take their place with each mail.

Nuernberg has come and gone, but its effect left indelible marks. And now a new assignment was offered me; a terribly thankless job and that's why I was asked to do it: to see to it that the Neurnberg precedent apply to the U. S. A.

And this is it. The whirlwind of this new tremendous turn of events created the incident of the ruined plate. Instead of getting mad at the dentist I found refuge in God, found PEACE and the necessary poise to get at the job of finding means and ways to replace it; and by THIS same method I now must find the means and ways to bring home to this U. S. A. government that it is bound by its own precedent established at Nuernberg and must clean house, must call its own war criminals on the carpet.

May this Christmas bring home to all of us that God rules as the All-Highest; not the political powers, not the cartel powers, not the landlords and feudal exploiters, hot the religious traitors who run the churches and help the warmakers, but God, our Highest Judge, the final Judge; and the Christ-peace comes into being as we surrender to HIM, his obedient sons and daughters, the family of God on earth.

War Crimes in America

Dear Sir:

May we ask the support of your editorial columns for publication of the sad condition of an innocent and heart-broken woman who has been hounded relentlessly by the F. B. I. and other branches of the U. S. Department of Justice since four years and who is still being held behind barbed wires on Ellis Island, the port of forgotten men and women, who in most cases have by mere accident become the victims of persecution of our "New Deal" Administration in Washington.

James J. Laughlin, Attorney-at-Law
National Press Building, Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Laughlin:

I, the undersigned, came to the United States with my son Herbert during March 1925. My son was at that time five years of age. We joined my husband, Hans Haupt, who had come here in 1923. We resided in Chicago since our arrival. I was naturalized in 1941.

On the evening of June 26, 1942, several agents of the F. B. I. came to my door and told me that my son Herbert had gotten into trouble. They handed me a pencil and said I should sign a piece of paper which they had put down on the dresser. I asked, if I had to and they told me yes, so that they could search my house. They had no search warrant and knowing nothing of such legal things I signed the waiver. During the search which followed, my entire house was upset and pulled apart and even my most intimate things were taken to pieces.

During those hectic war days my husband and I were indicted for treason on charges of harboring our son. We knew nothing, but were found guilty. My husband was sentenecd to death and I to serve 25 years in prison and pay $10,000. fine. My husband's death sentence was communed before the Court of Appeals had handed down its decision reversing our sentences.

My husband was re-indicted, had to stand trial again, was found guilty and sentenced to life imprisonment. My husband appealed to the U. S. Supreme Court and his case was argued on November 22, 1946.

I myself was never re-indicted but was told to give up my citizenship paper. I was unwilling to do this, but was told that it would be taken from me, if I would not give it up voluntarily. So I gave it up under duress, because I was in no condition to go again through court proceedings. I was kept innocently for two years in the Cook County Jail in Chicago, Ill., and was then released for 30 days only to find that all our belongings had been stolen. On August 22, 1944, I was taken to the House of the Good Shepherd and in November 1944 I was sent to the Alien Enemy Internment Camp at Seagoville, Texas. In May 1945 I was sent to Ellis Island. On March 6, 1946 I asked to be transferred to Chicago for the purpose of visiting my husband who had made three attempts of suicide in jail and whose health was declining rapidly. While there I was notified that I was to be sent back to Germany and I was given thirty days parole to wind up my affairs. Then I was sent again to the House of the Good Shepherd, from where I was sent back to Ellis Island at my request. My husband is at present in a hospital at Springfield, Ill., from where the last report says that his health is very poor.

I never belonged to any political organization here or abroad. I have never attended any political meetings. I am completely innocent of any wrongdoings.

Please help me regain my citizenship papers.

Sincerely, (signed) ERNA HAUPT, detained at Ellis Island, N. Y.

This pitiful recital is merely an example of thousands of cases of similar persecution suffered by equally innocent persons of German origin during hectic war days in the United States.

But the war is over since a long time and a general amnesty for such innocent victims of the war should be the first order of the day, when Congress will meet in January.

Such a measure would be justice, humanity and sound political policy combined.

Yours very truly,
KURT MERTIG,
Chairman, German-American Republican League of Greater New York.

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

Dear Mr. de Aryan:

I have read with much interest your open letter to me published in "The Broom" on November 25th.

I appreciate the opportunity of having such a clear picture of your experiences and particularly your reaction to the flaws in air transportation service at this particular stage of its development. Your observations, particularly those with respect to inconvenience and annoyance are most constructive.

I hope we can take full advantage of the observations you have made so that we may improve to the extent that we can justify the confidence of the public in us.

Very truly yours, W. A. PATTERSON.

How Jews and Communists Destroy America - G. O. P. is Full of Them

A serviceable disclosure of the methods pursued by Communism to gain its ends is made available in The Secret Battalion, by Harold J. Laski, until recently chairman of Britain's Labor Party.

Laski, professor of economics at the University of London, is a militant Communist. As such, he has a particular aversion for "plutocratic" America. But he loves American dollars.

Listen to Professor Laski, as he reveals himself through The Secret Battalion:

"It is difficult to exaggerate the tribute that Communists deserve for the courage and devotion and tireless energy they bring to their work of agitation: they have all the zeal of passionate crusaders. But the conspirational side of their work, above all because of the philosophy in which it is imbedded, creates habits of a different order. They are working against a ruthless enemy in an unseen war which sooner or later will seek their destruction in open battle.

"They must therefore destroy the very parties with which they seek alliance in order to command their resources for their own ends. To do this, they must declare they are at one with them, loyal to their principles, ready to accept their rules, prepared to serve under their leaders. But since none of these declarations are true, they must also, at the same time, deny these principles, maneuver around the rules, and do all in their power both to discredit the leaders they agree to serve, and, if possible, secure their places when they are discredited."

This statement of one of the leading exponents of Red totalitarianism is worth a whole encyclopedia. It discloses not alone the procedure followed by Communism in its lust for power in the domestic concerns of nations, but also its method of acting in the field of foreign affairs.

Laski shows how little faith can be placed in the words of Stalin and the rest of the Red hierarchy when they utter words of sweet reassurance as to peace, international good will and mutual cooperation among the peoples of the globe. He gives us positive proof of the impossibility of the non-Communist world's coming to terms with Soviet Russia, except on Soviet Russia's own terms.

Soviet Russia is bent upon world conquest, not upon world peace.

LASKI HAS LET THE RED CAT OUT OF THE BAG!

Scandal of the Food Parcels to Germany

By LILLIAN SCOTT TROY

(Conclusion)

My experience in this matter has been quite extensive and I am not going to go into it here, but I wish to tell people who are trying to send food to their families in Germany that they must not cease sending these parcels or be discouraged either by clerks in the post offices, or because they are being told in a sly manner that so many of the parcels are being "confiscated" when they reach Germany. Remember that the American blood plasma scandal broke with a roar, and so can this matter come to a smash with a roar.

Yesterday when speaking with the lady who is the high authority about these parcels in the Federal Building in Los Angeles, I asked her what about people having to wrap these parcels in cheese cloth, as we hear some woman postal clerk in San Diego informed Dr. E. M. Kammeyer would be necessary. The lady looked at me with astonishment and said there was no such rule. I put the same question to the postal authorities at the General Post Office in Los Angeles, also at the Terminal Annex Post Office Station, and at the May Company Postal Section—and all said they had never heard of any such rule in regard to parcels of any kind. Now, I hope that Dr. Kammeyer will write to the Post Master at San Diego and ask whether he knows anything about this queer "order" upon which his parcel was refused at one of the San Diego Post Offices. When you get on a trail like that, keep on it to the end.

My plan was somewhat unique in that I did not try to get the support of the Postmaster in Pasadena to see that his clerks extended my rights to me, but I went to the big business firms in different parts of the nation whose products were being "prohibited" for one reason and another by the Pasadena Post Office for transmission to Germany.

Well, I am not surprised that these firms are rich and powerful, if their alacrity in getting busy on the matter is any indication of prompt efficiency in attention to business.

Each one wrote me, and some by airmail, telling me that they had taken up the matter with the Postal authorities, and showing that the "rulings" of the Pasadena postal clerks were wrong.

It's one thing to step on the neck of starving Germany, and on the toes of American citizens who stand alone; and quite another matter to slam at big business. So, go out and get your allies in line—and see the quick change that takes place.

You can find all addresses of these firms in the libraries in books naming every type of business in the United States; and you can find most of them on the labels of their products. Write, and write, and write, and you will find less efforts to discourage the sending of proper food stuffs to Germany.

Now we come to a third possibility: There is a firm or group in the East which offers to guarantee parcels to Germany if sent through, and by, them, saying that Lloyd's of London will insure every parcel. Lloyd's of London is a gigantic insurance combine which is composed not of a single unit but of separate groups of combines of men who take on every kind of insurance. What combine in Lloyd's is able to insure the safe delivery of parcels of food to Germany when the great and powerful New Deal cabinet politicians in Washington shy away from permitting the Post Office to insure these parcels? Think that over!

And, to send through this group, and to others, you have to allow them to make up your parcel and charge you three prices for the contents. One of these groups was suggested to me by the Red Cross; and for what they would charge me for a parcel I could send two parcels with a better selection. But, I could not insure or guarantee safe delivery of parcels sent through my government's postal service ——

A Congressional investigation of the American blood plasma scandal in China is fine, and we would like to see a Congressional investigation of the food-parcel matter, too.

If General Joseph T. McNarney, head of the American forces in Germany in our Zone, cannot control the looting of food parcels to that country it is not quite fair to place all the blame at his door; and we should recall that there are authorities over him in power and influence which cannot be forgotten. This constant pilfering from the parcels sent to Germany cannot be the work of so many petty thieves in the customs department there or in the Army; it may be the operations of some such "ring" as dominated and got hold of our American blood plasma in China. An officer of General McNarney's experience who is so paralysed by his superiors, or people enjoying their favor, that he cannot control as small a thing as petty looting—has never yet come out of West Point.

We want that angle of the parcels being confiscated or looted after arrival in Germany investigated, and particularly to know just what happened to them. But, of more importance is the danger of discouraging people from sending parcels to dying Germans through the obstructive tactics of certain people in the employ of the Post Offices in this country.

The Postal Clerk in the Parcels division here in the main Post Office in Pasadena who has been telling me that I could not include certain articles of food in my parcels is a Jew. The lady in the information division here is also a Jew.

The old friend in Germany to whom I try to send a weekly parcel of food is 81 years of age, and technically an American citizen. When he was but 22 years of age he was a Republican candidate for the New York Assembly; and at that time he spoke on the same platform with Henry George, the great far-seeing humanitarian. His parents were Germans who met and married in New York years before he was born. They went to Germany on a visit to the mother's family, and this boy was born to them five months after they arrived there during the civil war.

He used to weigh 240 pounds but has lost 80 pounds since "peace" came to Germany where he lives. He does not complain, but is grateful for any little article of food which reaches him. He loses consciousness several times a day, and this is because of lack of fats and sugar—but he does not complain.

Our sugar being rationed as it is, we cannot get hold of much of it to send to Germany, so we have to shop about to find things containing sugar. Candy is allowed in parcels, but up to my last call at the Pasadena Post Office the Jewish clerk says NO. He reiterates time and again: "No kind of luxuries to Germany. No candy, no cookies, or any kind of luxury". We cannot get honey in tins, so we cannot send it in glass—so what is left in the way of sugar-content sweets but candy? A parcel with a 5-pound can of powdered milk was objected to as it cost over the sum of $1.00, this clerk saying that no one article could pass without confiscation if it cost over that sum.

All the other Post Offices to whom I went to ask this question about the dollar-limit tale told me they had never heard of any such ruling; and the lady in the Department of Commerce Field Office here in Los Angeles, told me the same thing. Yet, she was filled with excuses for all this—So, citizens just what is back of it?

Are we to be forced to giving our good money to Lloyd's in London to see that people in Germany obtain their parcels of food—these poor, inadequate parcels? Or, are we to be discouraged right here in our own country and cease sending these parcels because we fear that they will be "confiscated"?

Don't forget about that American blood plasma, and believe the worst.

Just one thing will put a stop to this underhanded business, and that is publicity. Things which appear as tigers in the dark, are but snails when the light is cast upon them. You only have to fight snails in their slime.

Yes, write to your Senators and your Congressmen, but, above all, write to Big Business. They are your most energetic and best bets.

And, combine together in this fight and we can make it a short and snappy one, and a complete rout for the obstructionists and the thieving profiteers of both our American blood plasma and our humble food parcels to people who are going about with the starvation cavities showing in their faces. This is not hunger—it is slow death from the agony of starvation.

Shame on an Administration which cannot, with the gigantic power of the United States insure parcels through its postal services, and which is out-smarted in the protection of these humble parcels, by an insurance group of Lloyd's of London.

Wisdom was never intended to be the mistress of fools, and should not be forced upon them.—James Bryan.

Fredric Corrects His Father

Emphasizes Different Details; Did the Overall Picture Improve?

Dear Dad:

Last week in your letter to Gladys concerning Thanksgiving you stated that the Vegetarian Society in Los Angeles "is run by Jews who are making money out of 'health' products they sell the Goyim".

This gives a distorted picture of the organization altogether; it was calculated to do so, rather unconsciously probably, but you enjoy making snap judgment and blanketing statements concerning Jews with unconscious, latent malice which rears its head from time to time in the paper.

The organization is strictly a motley crowd. Although there are a good many Jews in the organization, or who at least attend the functions—they are quite varied in themselves. There are Gentiles there who brag of their war services and of how healthy they are since leaving meat alone, and Jews who boast of a term in the pen for being CO's, and the vegetarians from an ethical standpoint, excluding dairy products also. The Vegetarian Internationale has only literature to sell, and they don't sell much of that. There are both Jews and Gentiles in the health and Natural Healing professions, or rackets, whichever they choose; they are represented at the gatherings. There is only one fellow who I believe is strictly a racketeer in the health line, a Gentile—no scruples whatever.

It is a rendezvous, more than anything else, I believe, for people who hope to find compatibles of like mind, but are finding it rather hard under the circumstances. They all have hair-brained idiosyncracies of their own.

Of course the main point is this: for every Jew in the health business there are two or three or four Gentiles; and from a look at them I would say that almost all are strictly business-minded; having reached the gamut of their respective moral bents, they have settled into their means of a living with morals and ethics now in a back seat, almost without exception; still, these businessers are a small fraction of the group. FRED.

* * * *

Dear Fred:

You are joining in with the rest of the "impressionists" to the effect that "latent malice rears its head from time to time in the paper" in my descriptions of Jewish subversive activities against the Goyim. Naturally, your intimate hobnobbing with Abramowitz and "Billie" makes you susceptible to their re-actions, as even David succumbed to this sympathy racket. You are taken in by the "human side" and don't notice the viper nature of the "poor shivering beast" you take to your bosom. I, on the other hand, see the poison fangs and how they are being applied, even here where "idealists" are dumbly seeking "compatibles of like mind" but find Jewish poison trash, lovely disguised, instead.

It is not latent malice that rears it ugly head from time to time in the paper, but your father's irate voice that you, David and Norma are suckers, too, to fall for the outfit like every other Goy, and especially "Mother Gloria" cut quite a figure promising $1000 for a building for the "motley crowd"; she of all people, a messenger of Mazdaznan, of Aryan purity, not Jewish mixture.

You see, Fred, you lay stress on the fact of some not eating even eggs and dairy products. But the cow and the sheep, too, are vegetarians and don't eat eggs, drink only their mother's milk when young. Does that rate them your equals? Don't be sheepish!

It takes many more things to qualify people, you must not mix mares with asses for the outcome is mules, vegetarian mules.

Your dad has thought the whole problem out minutely. You'll yet find out by painful experience what he offers you now as a matter of principle and precept.

Love, KOSTI.

* * * *

Fred's Note: You have gone around in circles. You distorted the picture when you said the VI is run by Jews who are making money out of the health products they sell the Goyim. I showed you that your statement is false and that there are more Gentiles in the racket than Jews chiefly because the Jews are a minority. I am concerned only with the one point at issue: whether you gave the correct picture of the Los Angeles crowd or not.

Molotov of Russia and Bernard Baruch are seen frequently hobnobbing in New York City night clubs and other dining and drinking places.

THE "RELIGION" OF RUSSIA

By SANDRA WHITTEMORE

A generation before Czarist Russia had played a major role in provoking World War I, according, at least, to documents published by its revolutionary heir, the U. S. S. R. In World War II Russia eclipsed her past performance. By signing the non-aggression pact with Hitler she had given him the assurance that he would not have to fight a war on two fronts. But not only had she given Hitler the assurance of safety in the East without which he would not have dared to risk a war, but she had maneuvered Great Britain into a position of dependence on her.

Just what was offered, as a bribe to bring Russia into the war or as a reward for her having come in, we do not know. But little by little the hidden things of darkness are coming to light.

If we want to get a faint idea of Stalin's price let us consider what he offered Hitler.

Our authorities now know from documents captured in Germany that Stalin offered the Axis a full military alliance against the western powers, guaranteeing Germany's eastern and south-eastern flanks with a Soviet Military program against the west. In return for this the Soviet was to receive all that they have already been ceded by the allies plus the Dardanelles, Iraq, Iran and enough of Saudi Arabia to control the Persian Gulf.

The Germans refused this offer because it would have put the Soviets, not themselves, in the key world areas—that is what broke the Russo-German Pact.

MacKinder's theory that the nation which controlled the heartland would control the world was as well appreciated by Russia as by Germany or England.

We have been given the story that the cause of the break between Russia and Germany was the German surprise attack on trusting, peace-loving Russia at three o'clock in the morning of the 27th of June, 1941.

That is a much nicer story than the truth that Hitler refused to accept Stalin's terms; and that negotiations had been going on between the two countries for several months before the final break came in April, not June.

During the two months which followed, rumors leaked through to the outside world that Russia was mobilizing along the border. These rumors were always denied. But such was the case. Was Hitler going to wait until the Soviet had completely mobilized and also completed her fortifications along the border? Certainly Stalin suffered no such delusion. The German attack was no surprise to him nor to certain well informed persons scattered throughout the world.

As far as Stalin was concerned it mattered little to him which side, the allies or the axis, paid the price he was asking.

At the present time, May 1946, Poland, the Baltic States, Rumania, Bulgaria, Yugoslavia and Albania and Czechoslovokia are puppet states of the Soviet Union. Greece is encircled. In the Far East the Kuriles, as promised by FDR, have gone to Russia. All of Northern China and the greater part of the central China are under Soviet control.

Iran is in the process of becoming a puppet. "Iraq, the Dardanelles and enough of Arabia to control the Persian Gulf" have yet to come.

Russian armies hold Hungary and half of Germany and Austria.

Yet we hear talk of "The Russian Mystery", and the "Red Riddle". One of our senators in a recent spech asked "What are the Russians up to?"—as though he or anyone else who dared to think didn't know.

Certainly no one in the vast Communist hierarchy, be he an official, a leader, a party member, or just a fellow traveller, has any doubt regarding the ultimate objective of the Soviet Union.

The unification of the world under the "Red Star" has been the underlying purpose of the Soviet Union from Lenin's day to the present, notwithstanding the difference of opinion between those two aspirants for leadership, Stalin and Trotsky. (To be continued)

With France going Communist, with Archbishop Stepinac in prison, with the threat of a civil war in Spain, the life and safety of Pope Pius is in more danger than it has ever been. Dr. O. Z. Hanish prophesized that by 1960 the Russians will have eliminated the Pope from Italy.

American Expects A Savior; When ?

Dear Mr. de Aryan:

I am continually astounded at your cracks against Hitler's Germany in view of your usual display of courage and love of truth. That is exactly the bait the wily Jew has stuck on the hook for the ignorant American: "Hitler the Monster who wants to conquer the world". Naturally, Hitler's dream of "The United States of Europe", without Jewish control, was a GREAT MENACE for the "The United States of America" under Jew-deal control. Hitler was 1000 years ahead of history. A strong Aryan Europe and a strong Aryan America would secure World Peace. Now America as a Jewish "democracy" will be throttled in quicksand, Europe has been destroyed and shackled by the Russians so that world peace has become impossible.

"When will the savior of this nation arise?"

Sincerely, LOUISE.

Dear Louise:

I appreciate your great trust in writing these things over your signature. While I'll respect your identity confidentially, the subject matter is exactly the thing I want well understood by our readers.

It was Hitler who took the wily Jew's bait and swallowed it hook, line and sinker so that GERMANY IS SUNK AND HOOKED AND QUARTERED.

The Aryan power lies in INGENUITY, Atomic Basic FAITH in God, in the RULE of God by which THE MEEK inherits the earth. The savage part-Aryan and part mixture of the aborigines, who inhabited Europe when the Aryan hordes migrated into the forests and took over the country, is yet addicted to violence and uses some of his Aryan ingenuity adulterated with animal lust. Thus the problem is to purify the blood FIRST.

Hitler attempted to purify it by "iron and blood"; Stalin consolidates the Russian tribes by the blade of steel (Stalin); so does Franco in Spain. THAT is the Jewish bait, the Mosaic method of exterminating animalistic worship, (The Calf-worship).

Whosoever resorts to violence steps out of the IMAGE, out of the picture and LIKENESS of God in which the ARYAN is cast.

What Hitler attempted to accomplish by militarism, by shedding blood, cannot be accomplished except by individual, Christian, Aryan self purification of the blood and HEART so that one is SIMPLE and duplicity, treachery, violence becomes unnnatural and of the past. This is the THEME of THE BROOM.

Wishing you a Merry Christmas,

Sincerely, KOSTI.

The Price of Ignorant Haste

Dear Dr. S. — — —

I want to call your attention to the fact that you destroyed the lower plate irreparably within half a minute by boring a grove into it where in your imagination you believed it needed it. The whole trouble being that your imagination does not fit the facts.

The history of this dental plate is long and terribly expensive. I paid $100 to its maker in cash. I commuted for 5 months in weekly trips to Los Angeles from San Diego after release from jail in Washington, D. C. I stayed 3 days a week in L. A. to have Dr. Rossteuscher do his work. He was a genius at sculpturing. You see, I have no gums in the lower jaw. So it took a special plate that would press on the fine muscles directly. It is finely sculptured to leave play to every muscle and nerve. It took Dr. Rossteuscher at least 70 hours of work to do it. And he charged for this work of LOVE only $100 because we spoke the "same language" in world affairs. He really did it for the "cause".

It cost me in transportation over $60, in hotel expense more than $300 and in loss of earnings over $1000 to make those trips, sit there in his office and have him find another fine muscle that had to have a grove made in the plate so it won't hurt when biting and chewing.

And all this you destroyed in half a minute grinding off the surface of the plate when, had you known your business, you should have first located the exact spot where the bone had protruded a hair's width and limited your grinding to that tiny spot, just a split hair depth, as Dr. Rossteuscher would have done had he lived.

I don't "hate" you for doing this to me, now that the whole left side of the face hurts like hell again when I bite at eating time and feeding myself becomes an everlasting torture once more. But I am telling you what you did that you may know.

It took me 25 years of torture till I finally located Dr. Rossteuscher. Now where do I find another sculptoring genius with his patience, ability and where do I get the money and time to repair the damage?

As tragic as the situation is for me personally, I wish to explain to you that it is in my line of duty.

When I was 17 years old I accepted the "commission" voluntarily to find out minutely all the faults which make this world a hell and learn the remedy, then announce it. It's a heart-breaking job. But I am still at it. It is one thing theoretically to expound true principles for humanity to adhere, and another thing to go out into this world and factually be a trouble shooter, place your finger on the spot where it hurts and give the remedy. But that is my job, hence I had to descend to the lowest depths and ironically, the average person imagines that I belong there, then don't see what I am doing.

And so, I show the marks of these explorations even in my body. I have to pay not only for my ignorance but for that of other people, and you are a case in point.

Don't you see that as you rushed in and foolishly destroyed a plate in half a minute that cost in actual expended values at least $1,500, and half a year's work, so the imaginative American, whose imagination does not tally with the truth, rushed into Europe and produced the present misery by believing himself a hero who brings "freedom" from want, — of all the damnable crimes ever!

Look what the US did over there and you will realize how on a par, you, too, did this with a foolish swing of the wrist, to me in this instance.

It's all part of my "job" to shoot the trouble and then call attention to it.

The average M. D. buries his mistakes, too. So, it's just another casualty.

Sincerely, C. LEON de ARYAN.

The Nuremberg "Trial"

Single copy 10c; 10 copies 75c; 25 copies $1.50 100 copies $5.50. By A. O. Tittmann, P. O. Box 136 Middlebury, Vermont.

As a leading Pan-Briton from the South, which is full of people who want to be Britons first and Americans second and both at the same time, he naturally favored anything adverse to the former enemies of Britain, and after having been to Nuremberg he now wholeheartedly defends the peculiar "law" of Jackson, et al. Whether his attitude would be the same if Churchill, Tyrrell, Vansittart, Baldwin, Airmarshals Harris, Tedder and Bishop, Generals Montgomery, Wavell & Auchincloss, Roosevelt, Truman, Hull, Byrnes, Rex Stout, Robert Sherbrook, Morgenthau, Baruch, Frankfurter and Rosenman, Eisenhower, Spaatz and Patton were on trial for their lives is debatable.

After admitting that the tribunal "is, of course, unique in the world's history" (in other words that it has nothing to do with international law), he proceeds that "such offenders have frequently in world history been dealt with summarily and executed upon executive or military order". Please, be more specific, Mr. Smith and say when and where.

For a student of history it is impossible to confirm Mr. Smith's extravagant statement. The only historical events that approached it were the act of Timur ("Tamerlane") who took the Turkish Sultan Bajesid I prisoner in the great battle of Angora (Ankara) and carried him around with him in a cage like a captured eagle or vulture, and the "trials" of Stalin's enemies and previous "friends", "the old Bolshevists", which caused so much indignation.

Mr. Smith tells that the "trial" is "military" and "organized as a military tribunal operating in an area under military control, depending on military force for its preservation and the proper conduct of its proceeding, dependent upon military authority for custody of the defendants and in the execution of any sentences that may be imposed upon a finding of guilt. As a military tribunal it is not subject to citation as authority by the civil courts of any one country". But he does not tell that no military court of any country, much less one composed of civilians of several countries has any authority over former enemy leaders, military, naval, civilian and private citizens and that there exists no code of any one country, much less a combination of various countries, on the basis of which the "trial" could be conducted. The "criminals" are not accused of having betrayed their own country on which generally the death sentence of a national military court is based. On the contrary, they are accused of having been patriotic, of having wanted to regain what was stolen from it and of having been too efficient in preparing themselves for the passage at arms which alone could have restored it! A virtue the victors have turned into a crime while still retaining the virtue for themselves.

But Mr. Smith, directly the Court-martial explanation suits him no longer, switches over to a new interpretation of the Jackson Court, terming it a civil court by asserting that "the tribunal is a legal court, as is a court established in the United States, to try cases arising out of acts committed before it was established, but which acts were recognized as crimes". But wisely Mr. Smith fails to add that such courts nevertheless rest on statutes, possess varieties of penalties and are not made for the occasion to suit the whims and exigencies of the innovators, nor made for nationals of a sovereign state. The question "as to why the Court was not composed of judges from neutral states" Mr. Smith answers as follows: "The same question might be asked as to courts that have been used in all ages by all nations for the trial of spies, saboteurs and offenders against the laws of war", but he does not tell that such trials were held at home in combatting threats to the security of the state and that never before have they been staged against the legitimate government of a foreign state for acts not on the domestic statutes and on that foreign state's soil. "The same may be asked", he continues, "as to why the United States as a government, when it indicts a citizen, a resident or an alien, should not draw its judges or jurors from a neutral country." The comparison is absurd, for in such a case the offense violates a home-law, and home-statutes, adopted by law-making bodies apply, while even home laws, much less emergency-fabricated home laws do not apply to foreign countries.

"Their acts were not a heroic defense of their country" is another assertion of Smith. Were those of Britain, France, Russia and the United States? "Guilty individuals should not escape by relying on the age-old excuse that the acts done were done by the State and in defense of the State, without individual liability or responsibility". Very well, try Eisenhower, Spaatz, Montgomery and Harris: the same applies to them.

"I saw what was once the village of Lidice", but although he witnessed the "trial", Mr. Smith evidently did not see "what was once" the ancient city of Nuremberg. Lidice was a village of 600 who in some way WERE connected with the murder of Heydrich. But every town and village that stood in the way of Montgomery was fired and flattened as was Lidice, and what of Cologne and Hamburg, Berlin and Dresden, Munich and Leipzig, Karlsruhe and Stuttgart, Pforzheim and Heilbronn, Bremen and Duesseldorf, Luebeck and Trier, Hamm and Hanover, Darmstadt and Solingen, Elberfeld and Chemnitz, Schweinfurt and Fritzlar and dozens more with millions of lives and irreparable cultural wealth destroyed? What injustice, yet blasphemy, to even mention Lidice in the same breath! Mr. Smith, as a partisan, sees only what he wants to see and is blind to what he does not want to see.

Eleanor Roosevelt will very likely be called before several Congressional committees this coming winter, especially if a full-dress job is done on the Communist Party. Although the widow of the late President has made some feeble attempts to climb onto the anti-Communist bandwagon recently, she perhaps more than any other one individual helped to make Communism look respectable in the United States.

The fact that Thomas E. Dewey is a distant cousin of Franklin D. Roosevelt by way of the Delano family is likely to do him considerable harm in attempting to fulfill his political ambitions. The Delanos, it will be remembered, accumulated their fortune in the dope traffic of the Orient. Most Republican leaders are anxious that our next President come from some state besides New York. They consider the New York influence bad. It was New York City which Henry Wallace chose as the place to deliver his pro-Stalin speech, and it was in Brooklyn that Wallace chose to say: "If the Republicans win the election this time the nations of the world will look to Russia for leadership".

It is reliably reported here in Washington that Attorney General Tom Clark wants to drop the so-called sedition cases, but he has been under such terrific pressure by the Anti-Defamation League (supported by the B'nai B'rith) and other Jewish organizations that he is in a quandry what to do. Clark knows as well as any man in America that there is no limit to the amount of money these gestapo groups will spend in order to persecute, impeach or eliminate from public life anyone who denies them their will.

Allies' War Crimes

Dear Sirs:

The following cable was sent recently by the War Resisters League to Lord Justice Sir Geoffrey Lawrence, president of the international war crimes tribunal:

"The War Resisters League of the U. S. calls on you to indict U. S. officials responsible for preparing and waging aggressive war and for perpetrating war crimes. For example, we urge you to consider war waged in China and Indonesia, also such war crimes as atomic bombings and starvation of inhabitants of occupied European territory. You may find persons responsible for these crimes include Truman, Forrestal, Patterson, and subordinates.

"We are also asking British, French, and Dutch branches of War Resisters' International to urge similar action against guilty officials of their countries.

"If such a procedure could conceivably be accepted by the nations guilty of some of the same crimes against humanity for which the Nazis were sentenced in the drumhead trial at Nuernberg, i. e.: our common share in responsibility for aggressive war,—it would do much to erase the shame that lies heavy on us for the violation of the most elementary principle of justice: that of coming into court with clean hands. We could cleanse our hands somewhat, even now, if we would in all humility submit ourselves jointly before a common tribunal to an examination of our share of guilt for the crime of aggressive war."

LASKI LOSES LIBEL SUIT ON REVOLT THREAT QUOTATION

LONDON,— Harold Laski, chairman of the British Labor Party until last June, lost his libel suit against a weekly newspaper that quoted him as saying labor might have to resort to revolution by violence.

A King's bench division jury in 40 minutes decided for the defendants, the publishers and editor of the Nawark Advertiser, with costs against Laski.

Chief Justice Lord Goddard had charged the jury of seven to determine whether the newspaper was fair and accurate in its quotation of Laski.

SIGN OF THE TIMES

In Detroit's cosmopolitan Petoskey section, hoodlums systematically scarred the windows of 41 kosher butcher shops with acid. Apparently well-organized. the vandals carried specially insulated buckets, drove cars with license plates covered. Police had no clue as to their identity.

Enclosed find Money Order to pay for some copies of The Broom, Monday, November 25th issue. The cartoons on the back are very good: the cattle on their way to the slaughter house and the soldiers are on their way to the slaughter house known as the Battle field. It is too bad the people are such fools as to want to run all over the earth and fight for Big Business and the Sanhedrin, of course if America was being invaded we would all be up in arms against it.

— — J. L.

Daniel J. Tobin, head of the Teamsters Union and editor of the periodical "The International Teamster", is now being accused of anti-Semitism because he favored the limitation of immigration and the enforcement of our immigration laws.

As an indication of what is being planned in the coming attempt to overthrow our government by force and bloodshed, we quote the following lines from a poem by the Communist Negro poet Langston Hughes. The title of the poem from which the following excerpt is taken is "Revolution". "Come here, great mob that knows no fear, and tear him (the capitalist) from limb to limb; Slit his golden throat ear to ear, and end his time forever, now—this year —great mob that knows no fear."

Congressman Vito Marcantonio of New York City is one of the few real Stalin-lovers who has been returned to Congress in spite of and in face of the Republican landslide. It is estimated that he spent over $150,000 getting re-elected.

President Harry Truman can now remind his friends that the election victory for the Republicans was a repudiation of the Roosevelt, not the Truman administration. The Democrats in their campaigns did nothing to project the name of Truman. They defended the Roosevelt policies. They praised the Roosevelt New Deal. They even resurrected the Roosevelt voice and used it in phonograph records for campaign purposes. It is believed that Mr. Truman will no longer attempt to carry out the Roosevelt New Deal.

Dear Sir:

Enclosing a money order $5.00 for a year's subscription of the Broom. The whole family is enjoying "The Broom".

Keep up the splendid work you are doing. With all good wishes for the future I remain.

Yours sincerely, — — H. P.

Infamous Persecution of Anti-Newdealers in Washington Ceases—"Gone With the Wind"

by WASHINGTON ADAMS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2 (Special)—Today has come and gone, and if the so-called "Department of Justice" has filed its appeal from the historic ruling of Chief Justice Bolitha J. Laws of the United States District Court on November 22, dismissing the indictments against the surviving defendants in the "Moscow" mass indictments of 1942, '43 and '44, there has been no announcement of it, either by the department, or the press.

On November 22 Justice Laws, in a 1600 word order, threw out the indictments and rebuked the Justice Department for its dilatory tactics and indifference to the Constitutional requirements of a speedy trial.

The honorable justice gave the Department until December 2 to file an appeal, at which time the order freeing the defendants of the charges would be entered.

41 INDICTED—11 EXONERATED

A total of 41 Anti-Communists were included in three indictments, of July 23, 1942, Jan., 1943, and Jan., 1944. The first indictment was filed by an illegal grand jury and was abandoned; the second was, in its main points, quashed by Justice Adkins in 1943; and the third grand jury, in 1944, exonerated and left out eleven of those indicted earlier, but included several new names in one of the freakiest and weakest indictments ever drawn in American court history.

That the final grand jury was drawn from an illegal panel, illegally impanelled, and that Justice Eicher erred in failing to charge that jury on the laws of so-called "sedition" etc., was officially noted in motions by Attorneys Wise, Broenstrup and DePreist at and before the impanelment of the grand jury, and some lawyers believe that these "sleepers" in the case would have killed the third indictment if it had ever gone to the Supreme court.

LAWS' CASTIGATES PERSECUTION

Justice Laws said, in dismissing the indictments:

"The defendants have undergone before a court and jury, part of a trial which ended on Nov. 20, 1944, by reason of the sudden death of the presiding justice. The prosecution was still in progress at the conclusion of this trial, which had been under way for eight months.

18,000 PAGES OF TESTIMONY

"Eighteen thousand pages of testimony were taken and 1,100 documents were introduced in evidence. . . . More than eight months is an abnormally long time to be required by the prosecution to establish guilt in a clear case. One would expect convincing testimony of guilt to be fully adduced long before the expiration of such a length of time."

The judge whose death resolved the case into a mistrial was Edward C. Eicher, who took over before the third indictment was returned after Justice Adkins became ill. Charges were made during the trial by defense attorneys that Chief Justice Eicher, who was hearing his first criminal case, had been appointed specially by President Roosevelt just for this one trial. Eicher had worked with Rogge when both were members of the staff of the security and exchange commission.

DELAYED FOR TWO YEARS

Laws said that since Justice Eicher's death various defendants repeatedly have sought "speedy trial" of their cases.

"For nearly two years such a trial has not been made possible for them," Judge Laws said. "Their constitutional right to a speedy trial has been denied. I can reach no other conclusion than that there is a serious doubt as to the validity of these cases."

SOME ARE IMPOVERISHED

"If these defendants are guilty, it would seem that any serious doubt as to their guilt would be resolved in more than five years of intensive investigation by able counsel and investigators of the department of justice."

"Most of the defendants have been before the court upon these charges for nearly four and one-half years. All of them were brought here from other parts of the country to stand trial. Because of the impoverished state of 18 of the defendants, they were represented by counsel not of their own choice but assigned by the court to serve without compensation.

"As in all long delayed cases, the witnesses now are scattered, some are not accessible, more particularly for the defendants who are without funds; the memories of witnesses as to events occuring many years ago are not clear.

COULDN'T GET "FAIR TRIAL"

"It is for these reasons among others that the Constitution of the United States requires a speedy trial and that the congress of the United States has imposed statute of limitations to prevent long delayed prosecutions.

Justice Laws further asserted:

"I do not see how these defendants now can possibly obtain fair trials.

"Under the circumstances, to permit another trial, which conceivably would last more than a year, with new prosecutors and newly appointed counsel for defendants, with the eventual outcome in serious doubt, as Mr. Rogge has stated to the court on three occasions, would be a travesty on justice.

THANKS 22 ATTORNEYS

"I have no doubt the cases should be dismissed and an order to that effect will be entered as to all defendants."

Laws "acknowledged with gratitude" the services of 22 Washington attorneys who served as counsel without compensation during the 4½ years the case has been in the courts.

It was learned that many, probably most of the defendants, will seek to recover part of their financial losses expended in their defense and in maintaining residences in Washington during trial and court proceedings from congress.

Precedent for such payments, according to one defense attorney, was established by Thomas Jefferson. The defense counsel, E. Hilton Jackson of Washington, said Jefferson arranged for payment of some of the expenses of persons prosecuted under the historical alien and sedition act.

The defendants were Elizabeth Dilling, author of "The Red Network"; William Dudley Pelley, leader of the Silver Shirts; Gerhard Wilhelm Kunze, New York bund leader; August Klapprott, New York deputy bund leader; Herman Max Schwinn, Hans Diebel, and Frank K. Ferenz, Los Angeles, Cal.; George Sylvester Viereck, New York; Ellis O. Jones, Los Angeles; Lois de Lafayette Washburn, Washington; H. Victor Broenstrup, Joseph W. McWilliams, George E. Deatherage, Lawrence Dennis, Peter Stahrenberg, Frank W. Clark, Ernest Frederik Elmhurst, Charles B. Hudson, Gerald B. Winrod, E. J. Parker Sage, Robert Edward Edmondson, Edward James Smythe, Garland L. Alderman, Eugene N. Sanctuary, William R. Lyman Jr., and Prescott F. Dennett.

Defense Fund for Joan McBride

Dear Joan:

Received your wire with information that trial date has been set for Jan. 7 but you have not been able to find satisfactory counsel for the defense in Detroit or Chicago. I am not at all surprised, rather expected it. Few lawyers dare call the U. S. government to account for not observing the Geneva Convention. Most lawyers are interested in their "patriotic" reputation and handle cases with the view of getting more business on the record they made.

It is 3:20 PM now and I have been working steadily since 4 AM, so am tired out. Am sending this with $11 enclosed that arrived this week for your defense fund. After a nap I shall sit down and write out further information you may use in arranging your defense. I am in hopes that you will enjoy Christmas in the midst of your dear ones in Los Angeles.

Don't yield in your heart for one single instant and you will win out in the end. Believe it or not, but is entirely pivoted on your own FAITH in the matter. According to legal principle I showed you a perfect defense. The next thing is to present that defense in the course of the trial by proper cross-examination of the witnesses of the prosecution and bringing up witnesses of your own to prove your points.

Thereafter it hinges on the type of judge you have. Some yield to political exigency and lack juridical integrity and courage to rebuke the federal administration in such important matters as treaty observations in the treatment of war prisoners. But I believe that along the line up to the Supreme Court we will find men who will speak up effectively.

And again I say, Woman, it is according to THY Faith that you are saved. Love,

KOSTI.

* * * *

Dear Mr. de Aryan:

Thank you for your letter of a few days ago regarding Joan McBride's case regarding a prisoner of war and the Geneva Convention.

The defense you indicated for her—that it is every citizen's duty to prevent one's government from violating international law and Christian justice—seems to me a perfect defense.

The Nueremberg trials have been conducted precisely along those lines—that every German when his government ordered something unjust, even when dictated by so-called military necessity, was to have thwarted his government's orders and is regarded as a war criminal by the Allied governments for failing to do so.

Unfortunately I am the proverbial impractical college professor, and cannot suggest any practical means of helping.

I am not really acquainted with a single lawyer.

I am forwarding your letter as well as a carbon of mine to you to WE, THE PEOPLE, SOVEREIGN, 5562 Hobart St., Pittsburgh 17, Pa., for possible suggestions and help.

In the meanwhile, let me express my great admiration for you for your energy and good will in coming to the defense of nations and individuals who are being treated unjustly. You seem to me a true champion of the oppressed, a man who as the Bible urges "thirsts after justice".

I hope you will succeed in lending Miss McBride effective aid.

Sincerely yours,
AUSTIN J. APP, Ph. D.

U. S. A. Violations of Geneva Convention

Article 2. Prisoners of war are in the power of the hostile Power, but not of the individuals or corps who have captured them.

They must at all times be humanely treated and protected, ... Measures of reprisals against them are prohibited.

* * * *

Bear in mind the USA, Belgium, England, France, Holland are signatories to the Geneva Convention while Russia did not sign. Yet German P. O. W. have been turned over by the hostile Power that captured them (the USA) to be inhumanely treated by the French and Russians who starved them in slave labor camps as a matter of reprisals BECAUSE they are prisoners of war who fought against them.

* * * *

Article 11. The food ration of prisoners of war shall be equal in quantity and quality to that of troops at base camps.

All collective disciplinary measures regarding the food are prohibited.

* * * *

Yet the USA turned over its prisoners of war to French and Russian slave labor camps Knowing that they were to be starved EVEN to death.

Before V-E Day the USA did feed its prisoners the same rations as its own troops at base camps received, but as soon as the German armies were disbanded after V-E Day so that fear of German reprisals against Yanks in their prison camps disappeared, the food rations of P. O. W. were no longer the same generous portions as at American base camps, neither in quantity nor quality, or were they, and why?

Lindbergh and the Copperheads

Dear Kosti:

The use of the term "Copperhead" to designate an anonymous contributor to the Joan McBride fund in last week's issue was pleasantly reminiscent.

When the despicable Roosevelt used this term as one of approbium for Lindbergh and other patriots who were honestly trying to keep America out of the war, while he himself was only pretending, I had the honor to accept the challenge and started the National Copperheads. The reaction to this was widely favorable and many thousands of the small lapel buttons "I'M A COPPERHEAD" were sold and displayed openly or surreptitiously as a symbol of a large fraternity. It is known that FDR was very resentful of this which no doubt helped greatly to shoulder me with seven indictments (count 'em seven) and put me behind the bars.

Maybe one of these days it might be a good idea to revive this organization, a vast company of unwilling victims of the unspeakable New Deal.

Sincerely,
ELLIS O. JONES.

Dear Mr. de Aryan:

I am enclosing $3 for the Broom. Could you, please, send me the Broom from No. 2. I always had the paper in New York from Mr. Brand but I moved down here and no place to get it here. I like your paper very much as it really tells the truth which I like to read so much. Keep up your good work, and wishing you the best. Sincerely yours, — — E. H.

DANISH PRESS BLASTS U. S. GREENLAND ACTIVITY

COPENHAGEN,— The Danish press attacked the presence of a U. S. weather mission in Greenland, and alleged American plans to build an airfield at Thule, Greenland.

Newspapers asked "What actually is going on over there? Do the Americans build an airbase in Greenland without Denmark's permission?"

MANY CHICAGO ROOMS VACANT

CHICAGO,— "Tens of thousands" of rooming vacancies exist in Chicago and will continue until OPA rent restrictions have been eliminated.

This was disclosed by Joseph A. Johnson, executive secretary of the Illinois Rooming House association, who declared that unoccupied rooms would be kept locked up and unavailable until owners could collect payments equaling operating costs.

NOBLE & JONES "FRIENDS OF PROGRESS" LOSE DAMAGE CLAIMS

SACRAMENTO,— Seven persons involved in the Friends of Progress trial in Sacramento in 1942 were denied claims totaling more than $63,000 which they had filed with the state board of control. The claimants contended they were "erroneously committed" to state prisons after the superior court conviction.

Judge Brink Sells "Casa Blanca" Hotel for $75,000

LOS ANGELES,— To liquidate properties of the bankrupt corporation of "Christ's Church of the Golden Rule" Referee in Bankruptcy Benno M. Brink sold the Ontario, Calif., "Casa Blanca" Hotel at auction for $75,000.

RABBIT HUTCHES "CHURCH PROJECT", RULING

Clyde T. Miller and wife, of 3847 W. 110 St., Lennox (Inglewood), Calif., had petitioned the referee for clearance of their title to 2 lots, 40 feet each, with residence, which they had conditionally deeded to the "Church" in the event they became accepted in membership.

On these lots they had erected rabbit hutches as an experimental angora-wool raising sideline. Miller was a postoffice employee at that time. Later he retired and with his wife went in the red, experimenting with angora-rabbits.

Judge Brink ruled that the Millers were "members" of the Church, even though they had not been so notified and accepted officially, because taxes were paid in the name of the Church on their properties. He gave legal title to Trustees in Bankruptcy.

The Atty. Gen. of Calif. office had done the "investigating" in the case and its stool-pigeon, a Scotch-Marrano descendant who hates the Church and badgers the members and women folks with moronic, provocative language between court sessions, was the chief "witness" against the Millers. Which goes to show that the Atty. Gen. goes out of his way to deprive church members of their property instead of "protecting" them against Bell's alleged "fraud" as the lying scoundrels, who wasted over $30,000 tax funds in religious persecution, pretend.

Who Controls Sat. Eve. Post ?

The Republicans are getting so much advice on how to carry on that we hesitate to put in our fifteen cent's worth. Mr. Hoover made a faux pas when he described the G. O. P. as "the party of the Right," because his party did, after all, get more than half of the votes, and there aren't that many people on the Right in America. One piece of advice to a party which triumphed mostly because of general disgust with the other side would be to work to build up some positive support for 1948 and lose no time imagining that Harding has finally been vindicated.

But what we started out to say was touched off by a quotation from Senator Brewster, of Maine, to the effect that the Republicans intended to renew the Pearl Harbor investigation. A party newly in control of Congress has a lot of responsibilities, as has been said pretty often recently. One of these duties is not to bore the people to death. It is our guess that if we have to wade through another three months of where everybody was when the shot was fired, and how This One told That One that things looked mighty queer, the populace will conclude that the Republicans might just as well go back to the Mausoleum Club, where they can carry on their conversation in more comfortable chairs.

— SAT. EVE. POST.

Editor's Note: Over one million Yanks got killed and maimed for life by the "borers" from within the White House. Their relatives and the cripples want to know why F. D. R. "bored them to their DEATH".
